We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:13

Atlanta, the gateway to the South, has Negro cops. I read a piece in the SEP recently, a piece about Atlanta and its mayor. One of the main illustrations in the article was one showing the mayor, the chief of police and two Negro cops.

I have started the book, 'The Civil War', by Brother O'Briant's son-in-law, James Street. James took all the romantic wraps, in which the Civil War has been enshrouded for nearly a century, off the affair and, apparently, he pictured the war as it is, instead of as romantics have depicted it.

Did you know that our court house is just about 70 years old? I got a clue in reading the December, 1883 Minutes of the Board of Supervisors, and with the help of Byron Hunter, I will dig out the story for an early edition.

Have you seen old Joe, the colored fellow from Tie Plant, trading here in Grenada lately? He is trading in Duck Hill and Winona now.

It used to be that Saturdays found most of the well-paid colored employees of Tie Plant here in Grenada spending their money. Where are they now trading?

I pretty well know the Negroes at Oxberry, but they don't come to Grenada to trade as they formerly did. Many of them go to Charleston and Greenwood.

I'll tell you, boys, something is wrong, badly wrong, and it is up to us white folks to see what's wrong and do something about it.

Coffeeville, Duck Hill, Charleston, Winona and Calhoun City are fattening on trade which SHOULD come to Grenada, but don't. We of Grenada used to fatten on the trade of Negroes, but don't fatten any more.

Too many tales have come to me to the effect that Negroes are scared to come to Grenada on account of the 'law', to say it's all a lie. There is bound to be some truth in it.

I have a map made by a state (not a local) agency which shows that, in a 50-mile circle of Grenada, there are more folks than in a similar area the center of which is any other town in Mississippi. Grenada should get a helluva lot more trade than it does.

There are, of course, 'mean-niggers' just as there are mean white folks. We, of course, don't want to turn the town over to mean folks of either race, but we should not pursue any policy which scares potential customers off, whether they are white or black.

There has not been such a good crop season in my lifetime as the present one: big yields, good prices and dry gathering seasons. There is a lot of cash money held by owners, renters and share-croppers, both white and black, out in the country. No section of the South has been blessed more than the trade territory of Grenada and, if Grenada is not getting its share, it is Grenada's fault and it is up to Grenada to see what's wrong, then seek to correct whatever is wrong.

Christmas gift suggestion: a subscription for some kinsman or friend away from Grenada (or IN Grenada). For three dollars you can get a gift that will be remembered 12 months.

You see, I was not kidding myself back when the GCW was so 'grand', when the GCW was fighting for what many believed in - retention of the CM plan. Right now, we are trying to get up a Christmas edition, in which we try to get in a little money for these greeting ads. That's about the only time during the year we attempt to shake 'em down. We ain't having much luck so far. I guess now our former well-wishers have joined the opposition which said the GCW was a gd menace to the community. Popularity is, indeed, short-lived.

I feel a 'teetle' bit better, whether

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR, PET PARADE HERE FRIDAY

Pilot Club Promises Fun Galore For All

Fun galore is assured young and old Friday night when Pilot Club of Grenada holds a Christmas Bazaar and Festival at the City Hall. The doors will open at 6 p. m. and refreshments will be served from that hour on for those wishing to enjoy supper preceding the program and other events scheduled.

From 7:30 to 8 p. m. a program will be held with Merry Morning Kindergarten pupils participating. Vocal selections will also be presented by the 'Little Country Girls', a trio composed of Juanita Brewer, Mary Austin and Yvonne Mullin. Sandra Paschal will accompany the singers at the piano.

Another feature of the program will be a vocal trio composed of Mrs. James Oliver's students Evelyn Godbold, Mamie L. Willingham and Ann Oliver.

The trio will also sing from 6 to 7:30 at intervals during the supper period.

Judging of homemade cakes, pies, candies, etc. in the culinary line, also handmade articles of embroidery, crochet work, quilts, etc. in the needlework division will be in charge of Mrs. Rosece Davis, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Holloman and Mrs. Rogers Parker.

A 'Parcel Post Auction' will be held with packages from all parts of the United States auctioned off. Contents of the various parcels will remain a secret until purchased at the auction.

Spearheading the 'parcel post' auction will be two packages from 'First Ladies'; one from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower and another from Mrs. Hugh White, charming wives of our President of the U. S. and Governor of Mississippi respectively. About 60 other parcels have been received from far and near including friends and relatives of local Pilot members, also former residents of Grenada.

Proceeds of the Bazaar will be used for the Pilot Scholarship Fund which provides financial assistance to girls wishing to attend college. Three girls have been helped through the fund to date. Mrs. Ann Callaway, president, announced.

There will be no admission charge to the bazaar and festival.

Santa Claus will be on hand to talk with the kiddies and get their Christmas lists.

Many of the homemade and handmade articles which will be exhibited will also be sold at the bazaar. The club will retain a 20 percent commission for sale of articles with the person entering the article setting his own price. Bring your art work and good homemade cakes and pies for exhibit. Blue ribbons will be awarded.

All culinary articles entered will be sold by the Pilots, but those wishing to display handwork, not for sale, may do so, and also compete for blue ribbon awards.

A 'pet parade' at 4 p. m. Friday is being arranged as a feature for children and adults wishing to display pets for cash prizes. The pet parade will be held in the Public Square with R. D. Sharp, Willard Dom and Dr. Whit Canan as judges.

Plan now to attend the bazaar, festival and bring the family. Additional entertainment will be a fish pond with prizes for old and young. This is in charge of Elizabeth Jones, Grenada librarian and Pilot member.

Cotton Acreage Cut By 8,662 Acres Here

Grenada County has been allotted 12,004 acres for planting cotton in 1954, the local PMA office announced Wednesday.

This acreage compares to 20,668 acres which were planted to cotton in 1953.

Individual allotments to Grenada County farmers were sent out this week.

Aint they sweet.

From the buckeye I got from Bet Horn or from Dr. Avent's medication.

Dont forget your Christmas cards. We have a few left at a dollar a box.

Dam Outlet Gates Closed Two Days

Col. Thomas B. Simpson, Vicksburg District Engineer, announced today that the gates of the outlet works at Grenada Dam were closed temporarily Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Initial closing of the outlet gates is for the purpose of temporarily raising the pool sufficiently for installing, adjusting and testing the gates. Col. Simpson stated that the reservoir pool will not be permitted to rise above the conservation level at this time.

Testing of the control gates with actual water pressure is necessary before the structure is placed in regular operation. The dam and outlet works will be fully completed and ready for the impounding of water and regular flood control operation by Jan. 1, 1954.

How To Make Christmas Tree Fire Resistant

Area Forester Gerald Stevens announced today a way to make Christmas trees fire resistant by the use of a chemical, ammonium sulphate, which overpowers his cotton allotment.

He said it is best to select a relatively freshly cut tree. To determine how many pounds of chemical to buy, Mr. Stevens said you should weigh the tree, divide the number of pounds of the tree by four and that is the number of pounds of chemicals to buy.

The chemical should be dissolved in these proportions: one pound of ammonium sulphate to one and one-half pints of water. Then a v-shape should be cut in the base of the tree or the base of the three should be cut at an oblique angle. This cutting provides more surface area through which the chemical is to be absorbed.

Put the solution into a small necked can or jar and set the base of the tree in it. The chemical will spread through the trunk of the tree into the foliage, like sap does. Then the tree should be left in a relatively cool place about 65° until the chemical has risen into the tree and leaves.

After the chemical is absorbed, the tree is relatively fire resistant, Mr. Stevens said. He further cautioned decorators to use a fire resistant type of cotton around the base of the tree, if they wish to use such a decoration.

The referendum will be held between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 5 p. m. on December 17.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S
SALE

By virtue of the provisions of decree of the Chancery Court of Grenada County, Mississippi, dated October 2, 1953, and, November 27, 1953, in Cause No. 123, wherein Albie Jackson et al. are Petitioners and W. J. Jackson et al. are Defendants, the undersigned Commissioner will on Saturday, the 26th day of December, 1953, within legal hours, offer for sale to the highest bidder, for cash, in front of the East door of the Court House in the City of Grenada, Grenada County, Mississippi, the following described land situated in Grenada County, Mississippi, to-wit:

YOU can try a little experiment with your friends or your Sunday school class. Ask each one to think of a human being, any human being. Write it down if they like. Then go around the circle and see what kind of human beings they picked. It's a safe prediction that most of them will have selected a human being of their own race, somebody rather like them instead of someone different from them. In other words, when we think "human being" we think "somebody like me." Or in still other words, we Dr. Foreman think of ourselves as the "normal" human being and other kinds of people as "off-brands."

What Do You Mean by "One"?

The truth is that it really does take all kinds of people to make a world, hard as that is for everybody to believe. Furthermore, with all the bewildering differences there are in language, looks, culture, manners and morals, the human race is one. If there is anything quite clear in the New Testament, this is it. All human beings are human, not one is sub-human. If other races seem peculiar to you, so peculiar you even wonder why God made them, remember you seem just as peculiar to them.

But what is the one-ness of the human race? It is true, all of us in the big collection of living animals called "mankind" have many points in common that are not very important, some that are not important at all. We all walk on two legs, not four—but so do penguins. We all know pleasure and pain—but so do cats. We must all die—but so must grasshoppers. We all came, probably, from the common set of ancestors—but so presumably did catfish. There is something far more important than our brain, our hand, our nervous system or our digestive tract that marks us as one race. It is the fact which only religion acknowledges, but a fact of deepest importance: We are all children of God and made in his image. God made us of many kinds; but he also made us "of one," in unity, for unity. We are one because there is one "Lord of all."

If One, Then What?

If the oneness of the human race is taken seriously, then some practical results follow. This is not all theory. It is something we can live by. For one thing, whenever we have any contact with any human being, we have to remember that he is a human being, and that so far as we are concerned that is the most important fact about him. He may have a different color, he may talk in strange gibberish, his customs may seem to be topsy-turvy, he may not know how to eat with a spoon. His ideas may be quite the reverse of ours, his religion may be weird nonsense and his whole mental workings as hard to follow as the flight of bats. But nevertheless the thing that unites him with you is more vital than the things that mark him off from you. You belong to the same human race.

Furthermore, if it is true, as said above, that what gives the human race its unity is the fact that we are all creatures of the same Father-God, then in all dealings with other people, even when they misunderstand God (as fetish-worshippers do) or even deny his very existence, as most Russians do, we must remember always: Their God and ours are the same. They may not know it, but it is so. All this adds up to the point that we have no right to despise or look down on any member of the human race,—nor they on us. At the foot of God's throne we all are on level ground.

Even A Saint Can Forget This

One of the Bible readings tells of an incident in the life of St. Peter. God had already shown him, as it were by a miracle, that "God is no respecter of persons," but at Antioch he forgot it. Forgot it so far that he would not even eat with some persons of a different race than his own, even though they were all Christians too. So it is easy to read these words, and it was not hard to write them, that all human beings are one.

I think from what I saw on the C. of C. float in the Christmas parade, that Bob Sartwell has rolled Puss Mitchell for Puss' regular job, as free working Santa Claus. A year or so ago, Pop Mahan made a good run.

One of the cutest things to be seen in show windows around the square is the miniature Santa Claus playing the miniature organ in Lickfold's window. This organist attracts a heap of attention.

Roy Deak's colored boy, Willie, recently received a 25-years member-

It's been a BIG YEAR for Rural Telephones

1953 has been a big year for rural telephone expansion and improvement in Mississippi. We've spent more than $1.5 million dollars for new equipment, cable, poles and wires to place telephones in another 5,000 of our state's rural establishments.

Not long ago, at the end of 1945, in fact, there were only 8,335 telephones in our rural areas of Mississippi; now over 40,000 rural homes and business houses have them.

And as we have been working this year to expand and improve the state's rural telephone facilities, we've been planning ahead to meet Mississippi's rural telephone needs for 1954.

Our telephone system is having a great many things to do this year. The telephone company has the right equipment that enables us to improve and expand our facilities to meet growing telephone needs everywhere.

Mrs. R. L. Baker, Mrs. Jack Rose and daughter of Greenwood were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gillon and Nancy are expected to arrive this week from Ralls, Texas, to make their home in Grenada County. They moved from the community to the west plains in October, '53.

Mrs. Jimmie L. James attended funeral services for her grandmother.

THE LITTLE ANGEL

The story of the smallest cherub in "Heaven" will indeed capture a place on your heart. Charles Tave, the sculptor, has created a tiny statue of a little boy cherub with a gentle smile, a gentle look, and a gentle heart. And the reason for his name is revealed in the fact that in "Heaven" the cherub means the small angels do "And even in Heaven, little will be joys." But some days however, that made the little angel the most angels need in all the celestial realms. And this something and the events that followed add a new and different meaning to the ever-recurring Advent of the Lord Jesus in the hearts of men.

This story will be staged in the form of a pageant on Thursday evening, Dec. 17, in the sanctuary. A White G.I. service will conclude the program. Your gifts, wrapped in white, will be used as our share in the Christmas Baskets for the needy.

Committee and cast for the production include the following:

General arrangements and Cloud Committee: Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Batson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller, Mrs. Bert Bays, Mrs. Grover Long.

Grenada Poet Again Captures Prize

Mrs. J. M. Frye, whose pen name is Ann Wilson Frye, has again captured a prize in poetry writing, in the current Poems for Freedom contest.

She was notified Tuesday of this honor and informed that her poem received second place in the contest. Mary Dawson Cain, publisher of The Summitt Sun, donated the prize which will be awarded Saturday, Dec. 12 at the Municipal Art Gallery in Jackson, Miss. Mrs. Frye plans to be there.

Mrs. Frye's poem follows:

Where Do We Go From Here?

Ann Wilson Frye

Because they cherished hope

That virgin territory gave

Their wish for freedom scope;

And later, well they fought and died

To make their ideals true;

They wrote and signed a document—

A fresh, new wind that blew

A hope within the hearts of all

Throughout the world enslaved,

And gave men courage to rebel

For liberties they craved,

We now are great and powerful,

But how may we stay free

If liberty be license used,

And men break laws with glee?

If we are lax to rule ourselves,

But centralize our laws,

We need not be astonished if

We lose our father's cause;

Security means much to men—

If they want that alone,

Then some day they will lose their souls

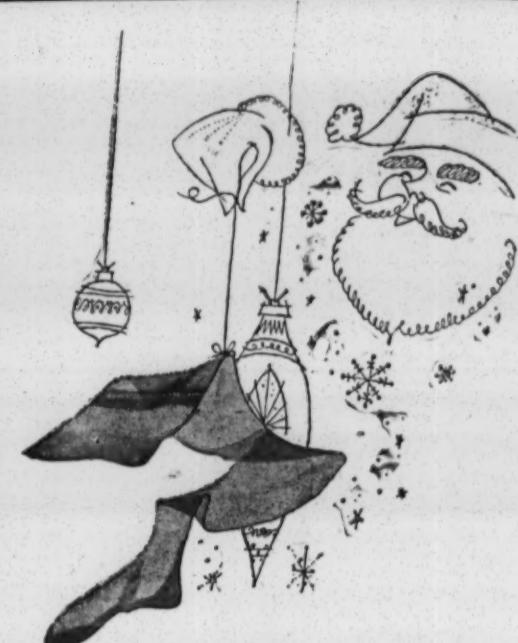

And everything they own.

Rise up, ye sons of pioneers!

Rise up, ye laggards, fight!

Lift high the torch of freedom now,

Or suffer endless night!

Career Opportunity in State Oil Industry

FOUND BY MISSISSIPPIAN HERSCHEL E. LANE

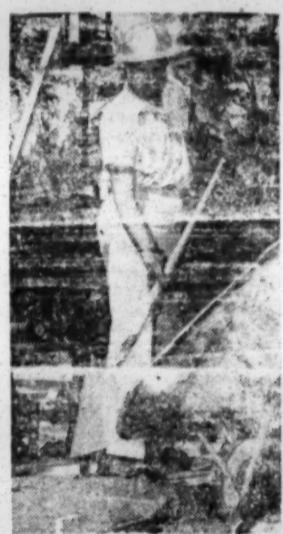

Year's Training With Gulf Refining Company Prepares State College Graduate For Petroleum Engineer's Job

Herschel E. Lane is a husky six-footer out of Lawrence County, Mississippi. He's going to be a petroleum engineer. This is a job which carries a lot of responsibility, so the 32-year-old war veteran will have to absorb some more learning even though he holds the degree of Master of Science in mechanical engineering from Mississippi State College.

After he left State College in 1951, Lane looked around—in the Carolinas and the far west—for a while before he found a career opportunity right on his doorstep. This job of petroleum engineering can take Mr. Lane right up the success ladder, if he's got what it takes. Many of the top officials of oil companies started with a shovel in their hands.

The Gulf Refining Company, one of Mississippi's largest producers of crude oil, is always looking among its Mississippi employees for young people with a future. When you have thousands of other folks' dollars riding on your decisions, you've got to have experience and know-how. The supervisors at Gulf figure Herschel Lane has a good educational foundation for the work before him; has a willingness and ability to learn, to work as a member of a team and to accept responsibility. Gulf put this Mississippian on its payroll and taught him for a year on company time. Gulf needs good petroleum engineers, so Lane started with a shovel in his hand.

Herschel E. Lane began his year's training for the job of Petroleum Engineer with the Gulf Refining Company as a "roustabout" or general laborer. Here he is helping to install a pumping unit on an oil well in the Heidelberg field, Jasper County.

From the chores of a "roustabout," trainee Lane advances to well-maintenance work... a field in which his responsibility will be great when he is a full-fledged petroleum engineer. Lane records a reading (first picture at right) while taking a bottom-hole pressure in a flowing oil well after he and other members of the maintenance crew have lowered a special gauge into the hole. (Center right) Lane inspects the operation of a "separator" after checking the "Christmas tree" of a nearby gas-distillate well. (Right) The separator takes distillate-bearing gas from the well and separates the dry gas from the liquid hydrocarbons, measures it and passes it along to a transmission pipe line for transportation to the point of use.

After six months of construction and maintenance work, Lane enters Gulf Refining Company's modern core and laboratory at Laurel. Experienced technicians guide neophyte Lane through the various tests performed on rock samples by the laboratory to determine producibility of a well, to determine the nature of a reservoir, and to aid in the drilling of other wells in the area. Here (far right), he measures the permeability of a rock sample taken from deep in the earth as technician Willodcan McBride records the reading.

Training in the administrative procedures of the Gulf Refining Company's production division is also given the Mississippian in the Laurel Headquarters building. In this phase of his education for the job of petroleum engineer, Lane learns the "how" and the "why" of executing the paperwork which keeps Gulf's organization working efficiently. At the purchasing desk (above right), D. S. Kewrya instructs the Lawrence County in the proper accomplishment of a field work order... a form on which Lane will rely heavily in his future work.

Back in the field for his final training, Herschel E. Lane studies the operation of a drilling "rig" . . . the derrick, machinery and equipment used to drill for oil and gas.

As a petroleum engineer, Lane will often bear the responsibility of completing all types of wells—installing production equipment such as pumping units and "Christmas trees," engineering gathering systems, and supervising maintenance work. Lane consults (right) with T. L. Hartzog, "tool-pusher" or drilling foreman for the drilling contractor, and with W. L. Taylor of Gulf at the rig which will drill more than two miles into Jones County rock in an attempt to confirm Gulf's recent discovery of the state's deepest commercial oil production.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION WAS ENTERTAINED HERE

Beautifully arranged white stock white carnations and gold foliage centered the coffee table which was draped with green lace, at the very lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. Gains Cooke on Tuesday when they entertained members of the North Miss. Medical Association and the Auxiliary at a five o'clock coffee, following a session, which included a joint luncheon at the Monte Cristo for the N. Miss. Medical Ass'n and Auxiliary.

Following the luncheon, the Auxiliary members, wives of the doctors from this district, were guests of Mrs. Gains Cooke.

They were privileged to hear two splendid talks, first by City School Supt., J. C. Hathorn, who spoke on Segregation, and Mrs. Lamar Bailey, who interestingly reviewed for the group the happenings at the National Med. Meeting in New York City recently.

At the close of the doctors meeting, they joined the ladies at the Cooke residence for coffee and cake. Thirty guests were present.

This charming new home, with seasonal decorations of white and gold, presented a very lovely setting for the meeting.

OMISSION

The GCW regrets the omission in last week's paper of the VFW Auxiliary float from the list of floats in the Christmas Parade.

The float, made up to resemble a huge Christmas package was designed and modeled by a committee composed of Mesdames Monroe Looney, Hugh Cofer, and A. A. Hoffman.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

Members of the 20th Century Club and a group of invited guests were delighted at the art exhibition program on Dec. 1st, which included a display of Mississippi art loan the club by the Miss. Art Ass'n.

The exhibit included oils, pastels and crayons, and Grenada artists having exhibits were Clifton Morrison and Misses Elizabeth Jones and Faye Griffith.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames G. F. Deaton, Covles Horton and R. A. Clanton.

Program chairmen were Mrs. A. T. Nadeau and Miss Elizabeth Jones and Miss Jones as speaker on program.

Mrs. G. S. Kent, president, presided and welcomed the following guests:

Mrs. Dan Taylor, Mrs. James, Mrs. Frank Oliver, Mrs. Junius Townes, Jr., Mrs. Virginia McCracken.

The hostesses decorated the club room with yellow mums and ferns, banking the mantle with lovely red berry holly. They served a refreshment plate holding coffee, sandwiches, cookies and toasted nuts.

The club will have a Christmas musical program presented by Grenada High School Glee Club on Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Mrs. R. R. Lawton left by plane from Memphis Monday to return to her home in Los Angeles after a months visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Semmes, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Lyons of Columbia are visiting their niece, Mrs. Edna Campbell.

METHODIST CIRCLE PLAN PROGRAM MEET MONDAY

All the circles of the WSCS of the Methodist Church will meet at the 3:30 p. m. Monday for a program meeting.

All members are requested to bring a toy for the children's ward of the Methodist Hospital in Memphis.

Sgt. Preston Moss will leave this week after a month's furlough at home for Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Moss.

Mrs. Sudie Hull who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mary Scott, left for her home in Chicago last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Scott.

Dr. S. B. Caruthers left last week to attend a National Medical Meeting in San Francisco, Calif., and to visit his mother, Mrs. Sue Caruthers who is ill at her home at Pacific Grove, Calif.

Mrs. Alma Dubois has returned from a 8 months visit at Bell Gardens, Calif. where she visited her son Donald Dubois and family.

Atty. Dave Doan, Jr. employed at the U. S. Engineers office in Vicksburg, spent the past weekend here, thereby missing the tragic tornado that struck there Saturday evening at 5:40.

CHAPEL HILL H. D. CLUB MET

The Chapel Hill Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Dixie Shaw Tuesday.

Following the invocation, "Silent Night" was sung and the Lord's Prayer repeated. Members answered roll call by telling what they wanted for Christmas. Christmas gifts were exchanged by members. Mrs. Frank Jones received the prize given to the winner of the contest.

Visitors were Mrs. Bailey, also a new member. Mrs. Glover and Miss Cora Lee Clanton. The hostess served cake, ice cream, candy, hot chocolate and Cokes.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Tollison will leave Dec. 11th for a three weeks visit with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Massey of Weslaco, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brewer attended a private showing of the beautiful 1954 Oldsmobile in New Orleans early this week. Mr. Brewer is owner of Brewer Motor Co. here.

Mrs. Leon Faust of Hazelhurst visited in the home of Mrs. Nannie Johnson Sunday and Monday of this week, returning home Monday afternoon by train.

Mr. John Martin who has been at Key West, Fla., Jet-Power Base, as Navy Reserve, came home Monday, having completed his training service.

CARIBBEAN CRUISE

Miss Robbie Doak and her sister, Mrs. J. P. Fisher of Jonestown, returned from a cruise of the Caribbean Sea. They left from the Port of New Orleans by boat, visited the numerous beautiful islands, returned to Cuba, and from there they came by plane back to New Orleans. Miss Doak returned to Grenada Monday.

EUGENE BRISTER, JR. PRESENTED IN RECITAL

On Sunday afternoon, a large and appreciative audience assembled at the First Methodist Church to hear talented Eugene Brister, Jr. who was presented in an organ recital by his teacher, Mrs. William Lomax.

Gene is the 13 year old son of Mr.

and Mrs. E. E. Brister of Grenada. He often takes over the organ at regular services in the church, when it is necessary for Mrs. Lomax, regular organist, to be absent.

His program, published in last weeks issue, featured selections from Bach, DeBussy, Clokey, Gounod and other masters.

The large audience of Grenada friends joined by a group of out of town relatives and friends, including Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Billingsley, Miss Jennie Purnell, Mrs. Fannie Cameron, Mrs. J. A. Minca, Mrs. James Whitehead, Mrs. E. G. Whitehead and Mrs. Lilly Thomas of Winona, Miss Tommie Flowers of Clarksdale, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Turner of Kiln, Michael, Mr. and Mrs. David Branham, Miss Bettye Branham and Miss Mary Lou Williams of Itta Bena.

O. E. S. NAME OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The Order of the Eastern Star elected officers for the coming year Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple.

New officers are: Worthy matron Mrs. Selma Waldrop; worthy patron, J. H. Biddy, re-elected; associate matron, Mrs. Edith Swetland; associate patron, M. J. Waldrop; conductor, Mrs. Lola Forbes; associate conductor, Mrs. Edith Chambers; treasurer, Mrs. Etelle Grissom; secretary, Miss Mary Louise Irby.

A covered dish supper was served to members.

BRIDGE PARTY AT MONTE CRISTO

Lovely scarlet poinsettias were used to brighten the scene at the Monte Cristo Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Morris Hubbard entertained at one of the first holiday parties at 2:30 o'clock.

The hostess received her guests at a becoming red taffeta afternoon frock. Carrying out the seasons colors were green holly, leaf and taffy cards holding a tiny red candle.

As the guests arrived cold drinks were served. Candy was placed on each of the 12 tables arranged in a circle. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Youngblood received a secret. Mrs. E. L. Collier, Mrs. Mrs. John Lyle, Mrs. Mrs. and the winners of prizes were awarded.

Counting the score was not for each guest present, they left their score for the guest replacing them, so the individual score was not added only the score of the group was added.

Mrs. Hubbard served a delicious concoction of cranberry salad, lettuce leaf, cheese sandwiches, wafers, cookies and coffee.

Notice To Applicants For Drivers License

C. F. Franklin, drivers license State Safety Patrolman, today announced that young people under the age of 18 who are applying for drivers licenses or learners must bring some document with proof of their birth dates.

Proof may be in the form of birth certificates, insurance policies, over three years old family Bible or school record.

Funeral Held In Paris, Texas For T. B. Revell, Sr.

Services for T. B. Revell, Sr. of Paris, Texas, who died at a Dallas hospital after a lengthy illness, were held in the family home in Paris.

A prominent figure in Paris business circles for many years, Mr. Revell retired in 1940 as a partner in the Rogers-Wade Company, furniture and dealers. He was an active member of the Episcopal Church and of the Rotary Club.

Surviving are two sons, T. B. Revell, Jr., of Grenada and Jack Revell of Austin, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Grace Steiner of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Ruth Shelton of Paris, Texas; and a brother, John Revell of Sherman, Texas. A grandson, T. B. (Ted) Revell, III, of Grenada also survives.

Four Tales
BY FED ROBINSON

We hear a lot these days about certain big men carrying the torch for the little people and their press notices receive wide attention. I think we must agree with Robert Rauck who once wrote a piece about so-called little people, and he stated he never knew any LITTLE people. He had known poor and humble people and people without influence or affluence but he had never known any little people. Father Keller, leader of the Christopher movement preaches on the importance of the individual and the accumulated power upon the minds of men, and the great impact upon society which could be brought about by each individual doing his or her duty in world affairs. There is no little people - except the Teenie Weenies in the funny paper - but our world is crowded with HALF-HEARTED people. These are people who are lacking in interest or sincerity, are neither successful or happy in any of the multitudes of things they do, or in the clubs they belong to, or with the families to whom they belong, or the church where they worship because all they do is half-heartedly. In the beginning we were told that we should love our God with all our heart, and doing that the heart expands and makes room for more love for more things. A fellow will insist on his sweetheart loving him with an undivided heart.

He would not think of marrying her as long as she loved two or three other guys - if he knew it. No employer wants a man around his place who divides his loyalty with his computer arch certainly no group of children would be pleased with a daddy who divided his love with some one else and of course wives just don't stand for it at all. Yet, this half-heartedness is becoming so common it is considered an oddity to find a person so dull as to place his whole heart into things where whole hearts are necessary. It is one of the chief causes for unhappiness and human misery - half-hearted people devoting only half of their hearts to these fundamental things. We are so constituted that we can only find joy, success and happiness in those things where we put our whole hearts.

Hanging on the walls of memory are these little things we remember about the little town of Grenada, Mississippi. A quiet and peaceful little place couched in the elbow of the Yalobusha River and a straddle of one of the busiest highways in the country, No. 51 where it meets No. 8 Grenada to Mississippians but Grenada to every one else. In the center of the town is a little park instead of the court house, like in most little towns. There's the fountain spewing clear water falling back into the fish pond - go to walk around it or the spray hits you. They use to park cars in the middle section of the street until a little girl was killed there one evening and now its against the rule. People in Grenada obey rules and regulations for they are a very kindly folk. Around this square are the usual business establishments, and long after most of the places are closed, good old Burt Boyce is still calling out to his customers 'Come back' at Dyre-Kent Drug Store. Around the corner is the Grenada County Weekly newspaper plant furiously busy during the days, but a big padlock hangs on the door at night. It is not a night town. After Burt runs you out of the drug store about 9 p.m. you'll have to go home or go to the Monte Carlo Restaurant on Highway 51. South "The City Of New Orleans" comes bursting in from Memphis at 7:00 p.m. but the people have gotten tired of meeting it just for thrills and when its low moaning whistle sounds off on its de parture everyone feels the day has been spent and the curtain is lowered and they tear another day off the calendar. Towns have personalities just like people and if you can't date Grenada into a person you'd like him from the first. He'd be a quiet, friendly person. Hopeful and optimistic, kindly, accomodating. He wouldn't impress you as a person wanting to make a lot of money but one who would go fishing or hunting with you whether business was good or bad. He would loan you anything he had, or probably give it to you. He is well known in Memphis and New Orleans and his credit is good in every store in these cities. He is a graduate of Ole Miss or State and he is positively not a hick and you'd do him an injustice to discount his note. He is proud of his town and his state and he will visit you at the hospital or at home before or after supper. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and most of his family are Baptist. He is an all right guy, and once you get acquainted with him you will love him and remember him always.

WHAT PRICE TVA?

Before writing or talking for TVA it might be well for us to have a heart-to-heart talk with ourselves.

We certainly enjoy a cheaper rate, but it is apparent that the nation's taxpayers are footing the bill. We have paid too big a price for TVA; we have given up state sovereignty for now we must go to Washington on our knees, begging for more tax money to run our Tennessee Valley business. We need a steam generating plant to attract more industries which would furnish employment for thousands, but Washington said NO. Too late now to see that exchanging private power for Federal power is not exactly an even swap. We find we have exchanged independence for dependence. We are dependent on the rest of the nation's paying taxes to keep us going and we are at the mercy of Northern legislators who have never had any interest in the South except to keep it on its knees.

"States Rights," the very thing our forefathers fought for and died for, we are begging to give away. The TVA is owned by Washington. The great State of Tennessee has surrendered part of her sovereignty. For every dollar we save on our power bill, the Government is taking two to buy a vote somewhere else. Every mile of wire the TVA runs is encircling the noose strangling taxpaying industries and entangling us more and more into Federal ownership, which is one short step from communism.

No more weather worries—and goodbye clothesline—now that I have a Gas clothes dryer! . . . I chose gas because it needs no expensive installation, uses all the fuel I pay for and gas burners are good for a lifetime. Best of all, I only need half as many things for growing children now that I can dry anytime—quickly and easily.

HONEY BREAD
(Mrs Ray Wolters)

One pound strained honey (1 1-3 cups)
1 1-3 cups warm water
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, well beaten
six or seven cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon mace or nutmeg
Two teaspoons cinnamon
3 level teaspoons soda
1 cup blanched almonds

Mix honey, warm water and sugar. Heat until sugar is dissolved, cool, then add well beaten eggs. Add sifted dry ingredients, then almonds.

Bake in loaf pans for one hour in a slow oven 325 degrees. Raisins may be used instead of nuts or both may be added. A slice spread with butter is delicious with coffee.
